

Garis & Hahn Gallery NYC

Alright folks, it's time to get bi-coastal here for a bit. Lets venture out of the realm of the West Coast into a New York state of mind, to take a look at a new gallery being opened up by a friend of mine in New York City down on the Bowery. Garis & Hahn opens at 236 Bowery this Friday January 11 with their first exhibit entitled After The Fall, which showcases the works of several young photographers in Yale's MFA program. Their namesake being adorned with the sub-text "Established Now", the gallery will curate exhibits of contemporary artists that present "relevant conversations" and "conceptual narratives" currently in the world of art. Check out their Website for more details, and follow them on Facebook.
