This May there are many great gallery exhibitions that you definitely need to take advantage of. The artworks on display throughout the city this month include all mediums - photography (<http://www.examiner.com/photography>), traditional painting, performance, and mixed media - and take visitors on a tour around the world. When you visit each gallery, you'll also step into a different country - Australia, China, France, Poland, and of course the United States.

May 8th – June 15th

Garis & Hahn (<http://garisandhahn.com/portfolio/peripheral-visions-contemporary-art-from-australia/>)

263 Bowery

New York, NY 10002

Curated by Marissa Bateman, this exhibition features ten contemporary Australian artists: Vernon Ah Kee, Joel Beerden, Liam Benson, Stephen Bird, Nicholas Folland, Claire Healy & Sean Cordeiro, Dan McKewen, Amanda Marburg, Phoebe Rathmell. "The works in Peripheral Visions will provide a tangential narrative for Australian art, which is all-too routinely associated with landscape painting." It seems all media are used in the exhibition, from the more traditional oil on canvas to the unconventional pigment in ink on cotton rag paper, or clay with pigment and glaze.
